Daniel W. Boerigter has been a partner with Yost & Baill since 2003. His practice is a combination of complex litigation and business counsel. Dan's litigation practice focuses on property subrogation, including fire, product liability and construction defect litigation throughout the United States. In addition to his property subrogation practice, Dan has extensive commercial litigation experience representing clients in real estate and contract disputes as well as estate and probate litigation. Dan maintains a business law practice focused on representing select individuals and businesses in a variety of matters, including business formation, acquisition, disposition, and real estate sales and leasing. Dan's long-standing clients continue to rely on him for his sound legal and business advice.

Dan is an experienced trial attorney who has successfully taken many cases to verdict. Dan recently supervised a large and complex multi-state product defect subrogation case that involved numerous claims, multiple experts and hundreds of thousands of pages of discovery. Dan also understands the art of settling cases. Dan recently helped one of his clients obtain an eight figure settlement on the weekend before the start of a jury trial.
