Michelle Hurley's practice is dedicated in large part to civil litigation of property subrogation losses in the areas of products liability, construction defects, workers' compensation and general torts. Michelle is widely regarded as a leading authority in no-fault indemnification claims in Minnesota and no-fault and med pay subrogation across the United States. There are few attorneys who are as familiar with Arbitration Forums, Inc.'s rules and procedures as Michelle. She also has the distinction of having argued in front of the Minnesota Court of Appeals and Minnesota Supreme Court.

Michelle has been a member of the National Association of Subrogation Professionals (NASP) since 2005. She has given a number of presentations at national NASP conferences, usually focused on national no-fault subrogation and arbitration.
